

News of the State in Condensed Form

On Monday last Col Juan C. Cabral left Cananea for Magdalena, where he is to relieve Col Emilio Kowalevsky, and assume the command of the gendarmes fiscal of this zone. He was accompanied by Francisco Borquez, who has been chief of the Cananea police force from the time the revolutionists took the town until a month ago when he resigned. He will probably be Cabral's lieutenant, although no announcement has yet been made to this effect.

Mamuel Cuesta, who represents the Mexican government in Douglas as consul, has been smarting for the past ten days over an article that appeared in the Douglas Dispatch, which cast doubt as to his loyalty to his government. He stated yesterday that the article of which he complains did him a great injustice and that there was never any reason why his loyalty should be questioned.

Captain Thomas H. Rynning has arrived in San Diego and established a partnership with G. B. Latham, known as the Latham and Rynning company. They will conduct a general estate, insurance and investment business and stated business as booming in that city on account of the explosion in 1915.

At Phoenix, employing pass keys, burglars effected an entrance to the Capitol grocery at Fifteenth and Madison streets, and although discovered while at work, managed to make away with a quantity of groceries and small goods.

When it comes to a prolonged taut, Engineer Henry Heide has them all backed off the right of way. He started his foot at some place near Seligman and it stuck, so his steam scream continued all the way to Winslow.

Plans are about completed for the new $150,000 school building to be erected at Tuba this summer.

The snow the first of the week was of untold value to Northern Arizona. The stockmen and lumbering men are all wearing "the smile that never wears off."

The county treasurer of Yavapai county wants more pay and to retain the fees of ex officio tax collector. Other ex officio officers of Yavapai are expected to make similar strikes.

Foolish enough to flash a roll containing $1,200 before leaving Phoenix for Los Angeles, George Sam was snatched and robbed at Maricopa. The thieves were kind enough to leave his ticket to Los Angeles.

Having bought two bottles of white key and a bottle of "Dago Red" which put him in high spirits Ramon Ortega was landed in jail in Phoenix after being robbed of $18.

It is said that "it looks good" for the project of a city market in Phoenix. Last week the city council of Phoenix further discussed the project and directed several charges to be made in the ordinance.

There was a cry of persecution and a sympathy plea put up when Frank F. Wesfall, who opened a bank at Phoenix, was extradited to Oklahoma. It was persecution that followed and Wesfall has been sentenced to a term of a year in the penitentiary and a fine of $500.

Of the opinion that prison is the place for dope fiends and irresponsibles of that class, Judge Cooper of Tucson is sentencing prisoners who he believes need supervision to a year's incarceration at Florence.

Held up and robbed in front of the Tucson postoffice at 9 o'clock on Saturday night and relieved of $108, convicts Fred Hartgen, a mining man from Gila Bend that Tucson has her share of the numerous hold-up men in that section.

Arizona and coast papers continue to harp upon the drought prevailing on the Colorado river at Yuma. Will these people ever learn that a drought is always prevailing at Yuma? This drought has been prevailing since the year one and it will continue to prevail two thousand years hence. Sure it is dry at Yuma and we want it to continue dry. We do everything at Yuma with water from the Colorado and there is lots of water for all. Three hundred and sixty five days of sunshine is our greatest asset. Yet, the drought in Yuma remains unbroken.—Yuma Sun.

Supreme Court Judge Ross has been honored by the citizens of Prescott, they having presented him with a handsome watch and nugget charm.

According to reports from Flagstaff the Little Colorado bridge is completed. This structure is 669 feet long, and it is said that it will prove of great benefit to northern Arizona.

Resolutions were passed commending Judge Due for the course which he pursued while on the bench in Arizona at a meeting of the Northern Arizona Bar Association, held last week. The Judge is held in high esteem by his many friends.

The Winkelman paper states that a thousand signatures have been obtained for county division on the petition that is to be presented to the legislature. Winkelman desires to be selected as the county seat.

It is intended to use dynamite in the new townsite well at San Simon instead of perforating as was at first intended. It is thus hoped to bring a flow more speedily.

The Siphon from the Arizona side in the Yuma project was in 712 feet last week with 240 feet yet to go. The work is now advancing at the rate of five feet or more a day according to reports.

According to advices received from Yuma, a furious race war occurred in a Chinese restaurant when a cholo and a negro came together.

Robert E. Briggs arrived in Phoenix and is to take charge of the weather bureau in that city. He has been in the service since 1901 and has had considerable experience.

The legality of a call made by Pinal county for a session of the grand jury on March 1st, until the legislature shall have passed state laws on the subject was questioned, and the call was reconsidered.

About half a dozen Americans are in jail at Altar, according to the Nogales Oasis, incarcerated for about two months, charged with crossing the line bearing arms against the Mexican government.

Resolutions were passed condemning the methods employed for handling the strike at Lawrence Mass., and especially the use of the militia and its conduct, at a mass meeting held at Yuma.

It is reported by the Tucson police that the holding-up of Fred Hartgen in front of the postoffice in that city must have been a "pipe dream," for the supposed victim was seen in a saloon spending the money, of which he said he was robbed.

Attempting to check the escape of steam from a sterilizer in a Tucson hospital last week one of the nurses was painfully injured, the sterilizer exploding under her hands.

While recently out hunting coyotes, John McAlpine, a government surveyor, became lost from camp and it was nearly midnight when he staggered into camp, nearly exhausted. Searching parties were sent out and used signal fires with remarkable success.

Thomas J. Donahue, a prominent cattle buyer from South Omaha, Neb., has arrived in Tucson. Mr. Donahue is president of a big cattle commission house in his city and is in this section of the country with the idea of getting Arizona range cattle. He will stay for several weeks before returning east. Arizona range cattle are famous in the east for their good quality and their fame is travelling to the various sections of the country.

Will Fly With Home Made Aeroplane

At Phoenix, a local inventor, Louis Hart, will furnish the biggest thrill of the Y. M. C. A. aviation meet, to be held in that city on April 6. Hart will endeavor to fly from the roof of a house with an aeroplane of his own make, having a 30-foot wing spread.

The aeroplane is the biggest that any of the Phoenix boys, who just now are crazy about aeronautics, have ever constructed. Many have small machines and only those having a wing spread of six feet or less will be eligible to compete for prizes. Hart is going to furnish the big thrill merely for the love of it and to test his machine.

Moisture Abundant In Cochise County

According to the weather bulletin for February furnished by the weather bureau at Phoenix the heaviest snowfall and moisture in the new state occurred in Cochise county. The average for the various reporting stations in Cochise was considerable of an increase over previous averages and the snow remaining on mountains adjacent to stations is considerably above the normal; it is well packed and should make an ample supply of water for irrigation and stock purposes.

The extraordinary heavy snow in the mountains and rainfall in this section is attributed by local observers of weather conditions, to the heavy blasting on the grade of the E. P. & S. W. railway. For instance where heaviest blasting is being done the snow has been heaviest.

Lewis Springs had for February a combined total record of 12 inches and here is where the blasts have shaken up more earth than at any other part of the grade.

The beauty of the snow in this section has been that the ground has been getting full benefit of the melting, making the prospects bright for a good crop and range year.

According to the report it is dryer in northern Arizona than it has been for years, and the Salt River watershed is reported dryer than usual.

Session of Legislature to Cost $45,000

The first legislature of the new state will cost the people of Arizona between $700 and $800 per day during the sixty days the session will be in session. These are the figures arrived at by the members of the board of control and include the salaries of members and the necessary attaches.

The organic law provides for a chief clerk, an enrolling and engrossing clerk, a sergeant-at-arms, a journal clerk and a watchman for each house. In addition to these the board of control figures that about ten additional stenographers and committee clerks will be needed to facilitate the work.

The salaries of the members of the two bodies will amount to about $75 per day during the sixty days' session or $2,250 for the entire session.

In addition to the salaries of members and clerks, there are certain supplies that must be secured and when the entire amount to be expended is totaled it is found that the expense will average between seven and eight hundred dollars a day. Compromising these amounts at $750, the total expense of the sessions will approximate $45,000.

Sloan Nomination Held Up

A Washington dispatch says:—The committee on judiciary of the senate, has decided to take no action on the confirmation of Richard E. Sloan to be United States judge in the district of Arizona until the arrival of the Arizona senators.

The action is regarded here as a mere matter of courtesy and the friends of Judge Sloan are confident that there will be serious trouble before the matter is brought to a conclusion, as all the charges have been presented to the president and the department of justice where they have been pronounced frivolous.

Company Renews Chattel Mortgage

Among the instruments filed for record in the office of the county recorder and noted in the published daily records in these columns was a renewal of a chattel mortgage from the El Paso & Southwestern Railroad company to the Farmers' Loan & Trust company of New York.

The mortgage was executed by the railway company on January 1st, 1903, in the sum of $7,000,000, and was secured by certain bonds issued by the company and accepted by the trust company as collateral. The instrument sets forth that to date the sum of $5,054,000, with interest thereon at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, from January 1, 1912, constitutes the amount still due the mortgagee and trustee of the said bond issue.

American Refugees From Mexico

A party of American refugees from various points in Sonora, and a few from Chihuahua, started the homeward journey from Toniki, Sonora, on Friday, arriving Saturday at Corral by train. It was learned at Corral that the rebels had burned the bridge at San Blas to the South, after the passage of the train, which information hastened the journey. Arriving at Oroz, the battle between Viljoen and the Yaquis could be heard, as it was in progress no more than five kilometers to the south of that point.

The refugees arrived at Guaymas on the same day and proceeded that same night to Nogales. The refugees' train which arrived at Nogales drew three cars of regular federal soldiers being hurried to Cananea, where more trouble was expected.

Considerable Excitement at Nogales

According to advices received from Nogales last night, there was considerable excitement on both sides of the line over a letter received by Colonel Reyna, commanding the Mexican garrison from C. Lopez, believed to be a brother of Red Lopez, dated at Revolutionary Camp, Sierra Azul (about 20 miles south of Nogales), asking Colonel Reyna to join the Vasquez movement and to send the reply to Nogales, Arizona, by mail. If no reply is received by March 15, Lopez threatened to take the town.

Forty-nine soldiers and three officers have arrived from Hermosillo and this morning 100 more troops and two machine guns will be sent from Hermosillo to strengthen the garrison. Colonel Reyna has stated that he will defend the town and does not propose to surrender. Two machine guns and a detachment of soldiers have passed through Nogales from Hermosillo for the defense of Cananea. Unconfirmed reports state that Arizpe is in the hands of the rebels.

Legislature Must Pass Eighty Laws

There are eighty laws provided for in the constitution which must be passed by the first state legislature in order to make the organic law of the state complete.

Legislation for various things was recommended and provided for in the Constitution and when Attorney General Bullard completed an exhaustive review of the Constitution he found that the laws provided for number eighty.

Mr. Bullard has transmitted to Governor Hunt a report enumerating the bills necessary and containing a proposed draft for each law. This report of Mr. Bullard will undoubtedly be contained in Governor Hunt's message to the legislature.

Mexicans May Cause Trouble

There has been some feeling at the Lee Moore grading camp between the Mexicans and the Americans since the shooting of a Mexican a few weeks since by Timekeeper Sands, of which charge he was exonerated, but this did not satisfy the Mexicans, and they have continued to keep trouble brewing and to make threats of vengeance, but so far have failed to make any effort to carry them into effect.

The only ones upon whom the Mexicans become unruly when they are under the influence of liquor there are some three hundred Mexicans employed on the work and only about fifty Americans, so that should a race riot start, it is feared that the Americans would have the worst of it as they are scattered along the work, while the Mexicans are more or less together.

At least two preliminary lines have already been surveyed to Fort Huachuca by the E. P. & S. W. and the expectation is that the permanent survey that when the work is completed on the Tucson extension, the construction of the line to Fort Huachuca will be started at once and probably completed by the first of January next.

The distance of the two preliminary survey are, respectively, twelve and fourteen miles and the route is an easy one, the heaviest work being required in reaching the mesa from the San Pedro valley in the vicinity of Charleston, where the Huachuca branch will leave the main line.

The building of the railroad to Fort Huachuca would give opportunity to locate a summer resort like Clondero in a locality that would be unequalled in the southwest for comfort and scenery. Not far from the military post are localities where the pine trees cover the country, where ferns grow five feet high and where there is abundance of the purest mountain water and in a climate that is not excelled anywhere.

From Friday's Daily

Mr. and Mrs. H. Brecker of Oklahoma City, who spent several days in Tombstone, inspecting the Royal Guard mine, departed last evening for California coast points. The couple was pleased with this section and intend to return here later. Mr. Brecker is interested in the Royal Guard.

Mrs. Brecker although a native of Ohio, is a thorough Arizona in spirit. She led the way to the Royal Guard shaft on a tour of inspection and tramped through the tunnels, observing all the dips, spurs and angles with deep interest. She deftly handled the hammer and "broke rock" for sampling purposes. Mrs. Brecker was so pleased with her experiences at the mine that she proposed securing some interest in the mine in her own right.

Rev. Trevor Orton arrived last evening from the Sulphur Spring Valley and will remain here until Sunday afternoon. He will preach at the Methodist church Sunday morning.

Andy Gurovich of Bisbee arrived in the county seat last evening on court business.

Ben E. Luddy of Patagonia is a Tombstone visitor today.

Miss Grace Hicks and brother, William J. Hicks have returned home from a few days visit at Bisbee.

Miss Helen Benedict left last evening for Phoenix where she has a state position during the session of the first state legislature.

T. B. Grace, the commercial traveler, arrived last evening for a few days' visit with his family. Mrs. Grace and little daughter have returned from a short visit to Benson.

J. B. Eckerman left for Tempe today after a two weeks visit with his son, Harry M. Eckerman and family. At Tempe he will visit his daughter for a few weeks, after which he returns to his home at Washington, Iowa. Mr. Eckerman was well pleased with his visit in Tombstone and during the time he was here, was busy taking notes of the many points of historic interest in the old camp for newspaper write-ups, to appear in the leading journals of the Hawkeye state.

Wondering Where He Now Stands

Frank Hartman, of the First Gold Amalgamating Co., is now wondering where he is at. After he is about ready to start up his new mill and cyanide plant at his company's property northeast of Nogales, about a dozen miles, he is threatened with the law by farmers and stockmen who object to the cyanide poisoned water which they claim will kill their stock.

Rebels Rob S. P. Train

By a band of 150 revolutionists Train No 1 of the Southern Pacific of Mexico, northbound to Nogales was held up at Casal, Sinaloa, and robbed at 7:30 o'clock this morning. The hold-up took place just outside the station. The revolutionists stopped the train and boarded it. They went through and disturbed none of the passengers but took all the beer and eatables on the diners. When they left they told the conductor that they would destroy none of the company bridges if the company would stop carrying federal soldiers.

Nervous? Thin? Pale?

Are you easily tired, lack your usual vigor and strength? Then your digestion must be poor, your blood must be thin, your nerves must be weak. You need a strong tonic. You need Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the only Sarsaparilla entirely free from alcohol. We believe your doctor will endorse these statements. Ask and find out.

If you think constipation is of trifling consequence, just ask your doctor. He will disabuse you of that notion in short order. "Correct it at once!" he will say. Then ask him about Ayer's Pills. A mild liver pill, all vegetable. Made by the J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.
